WHO AM I?

CEO and Co-founder of Website24

Prior to this project, I headed Zencommerce in India which is a ready-to-build, pre-eminent E-commerce platform. As an IT veteran, I am an expert in building marketing strategies and forming international tie-ups that have helped many startups and entrepreneurs to create a mark in the digital space. With Website24 and its Wizard, I aim to benefit the hosting industry, web professionals and DIY platform providers.

Mr. Ankur Goel

According to our observation

First Year

The user books domains along with DIY tools or purchases hosting and other value added services.

Second Year

Because of the challenges of creating a website

- Lack of knowledge
- Pricey
- Lack of time & ideas.

the user only renews the domain and keeps website development on hold.

Third Year

The user does not even renew the domain.

The effect

- Hosting providers are unable to retain their clients.
- Web pros and DIY solution providers cannot provide assistance in content creation which is why their tools are not optimally utilized.
- When clients don’t finish creating their website, revenue gets blocked after partial use of manpower

Digital service that drives long term customer engagements
